STRIKING RAILROAD MEN WILL RETURN TO WORK THIS MORNING

Action Was Taken Following a Conference With A. P. Titus, Vice President of Chicago & Alton—First Train at 6 o'Clock This Morning—Bomb Suspects Given Grilling

ROODHOUSE, Aug. 28.—The walkout of engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Chicago & Alton railway company at Roodhouse which has been in progress since last Friday night was ended here tonight, following a conference between A. P. Titus, vice-president of the Alton road and members of the brotherhoods affected.

The walkout has impaired the service of the Chicago-Kansas City branch of the Chicago & Alton for the last three days.

According to the agreement reached between Vice President Titus and the brotherhoods the first train will leave Roodhouse at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning for Chicago. A daylight schedule for trains will be arranged, and trains will only be run in the day time for the present. Vice President Titus is arranging the schedule.

The members of the brotherhoods walked out when they declared conditions unsafe for transportation because of damage to the railroad property said t ohave been caused by sympathizers of the striking shopmen.

Along with the chairman of the local unions attending the conference were James A. McBride of Cleveland, national vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and D. T. Mc Grath of Springfield, chairman of the Chicago & Alton division of the brotherhood.

Motor trucks sent from Jacksonville this afternoon relieved the situation in small towns near Roodhouse, which had become dependent upon the Alton for daily supplies and egress to the market. While still without mail service outgoing letters from Roodhouse and surrounding cities were conveyed to the Jacksonville postoffice by trucks.

Notwithstanding this relief a vast amount of milk has been consigned to the hog pen and many farmers have a great surplus of cream, butter and eggs on their hands, because rail service has failed. A truck conveyed some of the baggage of the American Express company to White Hall, but two great carloads of chickens still remain here. Today the railwaymen tending the chickens gathered a quanity of eggs.

Grill Bomb Suspects

Springfield, Aug. 28—Department of justice special agents tonight grilling W. S. Beyer, a striking shop crafts worker of the Chicago & Alton, and E. Y. Ramsey, a building contractor both of Roodhouse, the two men arrested yesterday by deputy United States marshals following the dynamite explosions of railroad bridges at White Hall and Drake. The special agents started their inquistion after the United States marshal had failed in a four hour attempt to force some damaging admissions from the men. An associated Press representative at Roodhouse tonight learned of the sleuth work of the United States deputy marshal who made the arrests of Beyer and Ramsey, after he had fired on an automobile that sped into Roodhouse from White Hall, refusing to stop even for piled up logs on the bridge. The deputy is said to have visited every public and private garage in Roodhouse before finding the machine which bore the marks of having come over the bridge and thru the gun fire that the deputy levelled on the car. The automobile was identified as that of Mr. Ramsey, who was taken into custody.

After the grilling of today and tonight, it is reported here that federal representatives have not succeeded in getting the desired information either from Ramsey or from Beyer, it is believed that an attempt is being made to get them to name all occupants of the automobile.

SENATE DEBATES SOLDIER'S BONUS WITHOUT RESULTS

Argued Largely on Land Reclamation Amendment

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—Senate debate today on the soldier bonus bill centered largely on the land reclamation amendment offered by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, but neither that nor any of the other amendments offered came to a vote. The unanimous consent agreement limiting discussion on amendments to twenty minutes to each senator will become operative tomorrow and leaders were hopeful that a final vote on the bill itself could be had before adjournment.

In the discussion today Senators Wadsworth of New York and Sterling of South Dakota, Republicans voiced their opposition to the bonus altho Senator Sterling supported the reclamation project. Senator Nicholson, Republican, Colorado and Heflin, Democrat, Albama, supported the bill the former also arguing in favor of the McNary amendment.

Senator Nicholson attacked the business men opposing the bonus mentioning particularly United States steel corporation and the Standard Oil company. He charged that the latter company profiteed thru unconscionable prices charged during the war.

Senator Wadsworth was particularly vigorous in his attack. He declared the bonus could be financed only thru taxes now or later and that the American people had reached a limit in the burden they could bear. Also he argued that the veterans themselves, their wives and their children would have to work but harder in the years to come to pay back the money the former soldiers received, which, he intended would be insufficient to afford any lasting benefits.

LOCAL RADIO STATION PICKS UP CHURCH SERVICE

Word was received last week from Rev. Davis W. Martin that he would preach Sunday at the Harwood Street Christian church, Toledo, Ohio, and that his sermon would be broadcasted by the Toledo Blade station, W. J. K.

John R. Martin at 333 East Morton avenue picked up the sermon by raido phone and the voice could be recognized very distinctly.

The set was one designed and built up by Mr. Martin and L. E. Ackerle and is doing splendid work. The station has been in operation since last Friday and concerts, market reports, etc., have been picked up from practically all parts of the United States.

GOOD WAY TO GET HOME

A person wanting to return to Jacksonville from Chicago can take the Alton at 4:10 p. m., as far as Springfield; take a car and get up in time to catch the Wabash west. By this means the railroad fare is but a few cents more and instead of paying $7.75 for a sleeper a good bed may be had in the capital city at from 75c up and much is saved for one doesn't have to wait till after a late hour in Chicago before starting home.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF COAL PRICES STOPPED MONDAY

Fair Price Agreements Cease to Function Pending Legislation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Federal control of coal prices and of distribution of fuel by volunteer organizations stopped today pending passage of emergency legislation by congress. Expiration of the fair price agreements with non-union coal operators effective today was announced by Federal Fuel Distributor Spencer who said the various district and general committees of the emergency fuel organization will cease to function next Saturday. Until then Mr. Spencer said the organization will be busy cleaning up the orders now on its hands.

"The agreement as to price restraint with the non-union operators," Mr. Spencer said, "expires today with the resumption of the union bituminous mines. About 70 per cent of the operators have held this agreement and it is felt that the public has been saved a vary large sum.

"Pending the action of congress and the state authorities the only restraint of price is the schedule of fair prices declared by governors or by state coal commissioners in some states to which it is earnestly hoped the operators and dealers will conform. These prices are about $4.50 a ton maximum in the Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee and Virginia fields, $3.75 for Pennsylvania thick vein and $4.75 for thin vein. Standards have not been set in other states.

"The legislation before congress can only control the price of coal moving over state lines, that is in interstate commerce. The price of coal produced and consumed in a state should be controlled by state authorities."

Except to the upper lake rekions, Mr. Spencer stated, no more coal will be directed to different states under emergency priority orders of class one, unless a situation arises which warrants such forced measures.

At the meeting of the city council Monday night, Alderman Sorrells gave proof of the fine progress that is being made in laying sidewalks by the statement that 4,900 feet of walks had been laid during the week. Alderman Sorrells has been giving particular attention to side walk work and with good results.

A petition was read from residents on West Chamber street, asking that a water main be laid there under the public improvement act, and the matter was referred to the board of local improvements. Those who signed the petition were P. A. Heneghan, Julia Brown, Francis Doolin, administrators, W. S. Ehnie, W. E Hall and Mrs. L. Hawk.

An ordinance was adopted providing for sidewalks in certain portions of South Clay avenue. An ordinance was read for the Webster avenue pavement betwen State street and College avenue. This improvement is to be made by agreement but it was deemed best to pass an ordinance in the usual way. The council then adjourned.

LABOR BOARD TO MAKE RULING ON MOOTED QUESTION

Requested to Define What Constitutes Living Wage

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 28—At the resumption of the hearing tomorrow of the maintenance of way organization's case involving the wages and rules governing its 400,000 members the railroad labor board will rule on a formel request to define the mooted question "what consttitues a living wage?"

The announcement was made by Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the board, when he adjourned today's session. Jett Lauck, statistical expert for the maintenance organization made a motion on behalf of President E. F. Grable and his colleaues. An objection was raised today to President Grable's argument for increases based on a 48 cent an hour minimum. The issue was brought forward by Dr. A. P. Neal, representative of the south eastern roads who declared that President Grable had no right under the transportation act to base his argument on this basis.

"The men have not in any case submitted to individual roads under my representation demand for an increase in wages based on 48 cents an hour minimum, declared Dr. Neal. "Instead in all conferences between the managements of the roads of the southeast and the maintenance of way representatives the scale ranging from 36½ cents to 48 cents an hour was discuessed. Under the provisions of the trans portation act therefore, President Grable has no right to come before the board and argue for an increase, based on a 48 cent minimum, as the minimum was never at issue in any of our conferences."

John Higgins, representative of the Western roads and John G. Walber, spokesman for the eastern roads, both signified their approval and participation in Dr. Neal's objections stating taht 48 cents minimum was never at issue in negotiations on their roads.

Loucke Presents Argument

Loucke's motion came soon after he noon recess. In support of it he read a lengthy manuscript dealing with the minimum wage standard and its practicability of application. The motion, Louck told the board, "has the following definite meanings: that the board accept and make the basis of its decision in this case as well as part of its general policy in fixing the wage rates of railroad employes, that—

"(a):—Adult workers of the lower grades, unskilled railroad employes, be awarded rates of pay which will enable them under normal conditions to earn yearly amount sufficient to permit them to maintain standards of living that are approved as healthful and decent and that are promotive of genuine industrial economy and efficiency, and,

"(b):—That proper differentials above this minimum living wage be paid for added skill, responsibility, training and hazard.

Walber demurred aginst a living wage plan, saying "I would never accept a bald, indefinite thing as a living wage. I don't know what it is and neither do I believe anyone else does."

BLIND TIGERS ARE SUBJECT OF DEBATE IN HOUSE MONDAY

Congressman Stafford Recalls the "Good Old Days" of Beer

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—Taking a fling at the Volstead law in the house today Representative Stafford, Republican who lives in Milwaukee, confessed that while in the old days he enjoyed a glass of beer, he did not dare look a blind tiger in the face nowadays for fear of being poisoned.

A bill relating to blind alleys in the District of Columbia, was up and somebody had asked about blind tigers.

"Once upon a time I did not have any acquaintance with those particular denizens of the jungle" said Mr. Stafford, "but since the incoming of the intolerant Volstead bill that takes away my liberties so that I can no longer indulge in an innocent drink of harmless beer in Washington —" but he didn't finish.

"That only proves the geneleman is quite unacquainted with the town," Chairman Ficht of the district committee, broke in.

Mr. Stafford shot back that his own acquaintance with blind tigers was not as great as that of the chairman.

SMALL WILL ASK NEW BOND ISSUE FOR HARD ROADS

Would Also Seek Gasoline Tax to Build More Highways

(By The Associated Press)

KANKAKEE, Ill., Aug. 28—Governor Len Small announced tonight that he would seek a new road bond issue and a gasoline tax for a proposed extension of 3,500 to 10,000 miles of highways. The completion of such a system he declared would give Illinois the greatest hard road territory for its seize in the world.

"I expect to recommend to the next session of the legislature that a law be submitted for an additional bond issue to the people," he declared. "The people want roads. They understand what it means to their traffic, their markets, their lands and their general business. It will bring 98 percent of the people within three miles and less of hard roads.

"I believe that the entire bond issue would be paid by automobile licenses. I believe that a truck should pay its proportion in relation to its earning capacity. It stands to reason that a truck earning $10,000 per year should pay more for the maintenance of roads than a truck earning only $1,000 per year.

Under the present system both pay the same price.

"I believe a gasoline tax is the fairest and surest way of getting at a basis. Some automobiles are seldom run, perhaps once a week. They don't get the benefits from the roads that an automobile gets which is run every day. The gasoline tax is being tried in other states, and is in the courts on a question of constitutionality. We will see how it comes out."

RECEIVES NEWS OF DEATH OF OLD TIME PHYSICIAN

Dr. G. W. Miller of Woodson received a telephone message Monday from his brother, Silas Miller in St. Charles, Mo., telling of the death of their old family physician, Dr. John Chiles Edwards, at the home of his daughter in Highland Springs, Va. The deceased was in his ninety-sixth year at the time of his death.

Dr. Edwards was formerly a resident of O'Fallon, St. Charles county, Mo., and it was while resident there that he served as family physician for the Miller family. Dr. Edwards has the distinction of being the oldest living graduate of the University of Virginia, having received his diploma there in 1853. He was also proud of his Masonic career, and at the time of his death was the oldest living Mason in the state of Virginia. He was made a Mason in November, 1848, becoming a member of Douglas lodge, Warrens county, Mo. It was thru his influence that Dr. Miller became a Mason.

Dr. Miller greatly regrets the fact that he will be unable to attend the funeral of his long time friend. The uncertainty of the train service would make the trip an especially difficult one for him at this time.

PUT PROPOSALS FOR GOVERNMENT CONTROL ASIDE

Leaders Center Their Efforts on Less Drastic Measures

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—Proposals for government operation of railroad and coal properties were put aside, at least for the present today, and administration leaders, both in and out of congress centered their efforts instead on less drastic measures to meet the industrial emergency.

With the return to Washington of Presndent Harding, after an over-Sunday conference with some of his principal advisers on the yacht Mayflower, it became apparent that no step toward government operation was to become a part of the present administration program. Not only was it revealed that the president was not disposed definitely to ask for congressional authority to take over the properties involved in the strike situation, but it was made known also that influential group of leaders in the senate and house had taken a position which would make passage of the authorizing legislation extremely difficult.

Meantime, committees in both granches of congress reported out for passage later in the week, bills recommending the administration to strengthen its hands in controlling coal distribution by creating a federal distributing agency and by giving to the interstate commerce commission broader powers over priority of shipments. In the house the bill will be taken up tomorrow under a rule providing for six hours of debate.

Senators Wants to Debate

In the senate committee action was taken after only a short discussion and with members reserving the right to debate the measure at length on the senate floor. The house committee did not vote its approval, until it had heard arguments for the measure by Secretary Hoover and interstate commerce commissioner Aitchison, and some sharp criticism of its price-fixing potentialities from representatives from both employers and labor in the industry.

President Harding was informed by Republican leader Mondell that the distribution measure would be brought into the house tomorrow and passed before Wednesday night. No such quick action was in prospect in the senate but the leaders said there would be no delaying.

As viewed by the Mayflower conferees, who included Secretary Hoover and Senator Commins and Attorney General Daugherty, the strike situation, both anthracite and bituminous appeared in a way to solve itself and insure increased production in the very near future, leaving the problem of moving the product to the consumer as the crux of the whole effort to restore industrial stability. It appeared to be the opinion of the president's advisers that a great deal could be done in that direction under authority already possessed or to be conferred by the distribution and priority legislation pending.

COURT REFUSES TO QUASH INFORMATION

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 28—Federal Judge FitzHenry this afternoon refused to quash information against 26 striking shopmen charging thhem with violation of injunction, and upon a jury waiver by attorneys for the men the trial of William Dyer, of Beardstown was commenced. Disposal of this case will likely indicate the treatment of the others which will follow. The two cases from Bloomington were set for trial on September 3 and 4, but those of Beardstown and Roodhouse will be tried, one after the other starting tomorrow.

Flint, Mich., Aug. 28—An inflammable bomb, placed beside a large gasoline storage tank in the heart of Flint's industrial district, was discovered by police late tonight. FIRST WITNESSES ARE EXAMINED IN HERRIN MINE WAR

Judge Hartwell Points Out Duty of Jurors in His Address

(By The Associated Press)

MARION, Ill., Aug. 28.—The first witness were called this afternoon before the grand jury investigating the Herrin mine war fought around the Lester strip mine June 21 and 22. They included empioyes of an electrical railway operating between here and Herrin who were said to have been eye witnesses of the man hunting battle and the owner of a hardware store from which ammunition was taken in preparation for the battle.

The actual investigation began this afternoon when Sheriff Thaxton against whom considerable criticism was made following the massacre was summoned. He was followed by his deputy, S. E. Storm.. Considerable time was then given to examining Colonel Sam Hunter of the Illinois National Guard who was in closer touch with the actual conditions on the first day of the riot than Sheriff Thaxton, who had been called away to Carbondale.

While nothing of the testimony is permitted to go outside of the grand jury room, it is understood that these witnesses repeated their statements made at the coroner's inquest with detailed accounts added. Colonel Hunter and Major William P. Green of the 130th Infantry, Illinois National Guard, is understood have been sent here as the representatives of the state's military department merely as a precautionary measure.

The first civilian called before the grand jury after Coroner McCown had been examined was T. A. Cox, a hardware merchant from whose store a mob forcibly took a quantity of ammunition. He had been warned of the forming of the mob and had removed his rifles and other weapons from the store, he testified on previous occasions, but on the evening preceding the battle all ammunition was taken from the store after a mob had forced him to open his place of business.

In addressing the grand jury Circuit Judge Hartwell pointed out that a fair and complete investigation should be made and that all guilty should be brought before the bar of justice in order that the "guilty may be punished for the blot stamped on Williamson county's records by a lawless element."

RESCUE CREWS UNABLE REACH ENTOMBED MEN

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSON, Calif., Aug. 28—Mine rescue crews worked without avail today in the Argonaut gold mine in which 48 men were entombed at midnight by a fire. The men were thought to be between the 4500 and 4800 foot levels while the main body of the fire was more than 1,000 feet above them.

Employes of the mine were sent into the Kennedy mine which connects with the Argonaut thru a tunnel, but which is closed by a concrete bulkhead with instructions to breakdown the bulkhead and enter Argonaut.

It had been reported that the Kennedy tunnel had collapsed but the report was not verified. Early today, V. S. Garbarini of the Argonaut succeeded in restoring the cutoff air supply to the 2800 foot level and efforts were continued to extend the air supply.

The Argonaut recently was drained of flood waters that were poured in the mine when it was on fire and the state industrial accident commission announced that the soft dirt in the mine was nearly as great a menace to fire fighters and rescuers as the fire, if the fire burns the timbers in the mine.

The Argonaut mine, one of famous gold producers in California was opened 25 years ago. The Kennedy mine adjoining was opened in the '60's and always has been productive. If the tunnel is the Kennedy has collapsed little, if any, hope is expressed for the entombed men.

SLATER STRIKERS WILL MEET OFFICIALS TODAY

SLATER, Mo., Aug. 28—Local Chicago & Alton firemen who have been on strike since Friday, will meet with railroad officials tomorrow to present "certain demands" which, if complied with, will end the walkout. S. A. Boone, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen said after a meeting of the striking enginemen tonight. Mr. Boone would not say what these demands would be. It was intimated that they would center around the condition of the equipment and positions occupied by the guards in the railroad yards. A train will be run from here to Kansas City tomorrow, the first since Saturday.

Roy A. Ginn, a local rural mail carrier will be taken there for an operation, which, doctors declared today must be performed immediately. The train will consist of an engine and mail car and will be manned by a crew composed of railroad men who are members of a lodge.

GERMANY STILL CAUSING ALLIES LOTS OF TROUBLE

Countries Unable to Reach Agreement on Reparations

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Aug. 28—The reparations commission met again this afternoon in an effort to reach a unanimous agreement regarding the German request for a moratorium on her indemnity payments. At the end of several hours of discussion the British and French view points were still widely at variance with the Italian and Beligians merely trying to find some one of a number of proposals suggested which would meet the ideas of France and Great Britian. Two projected solutions were seriously discussed. One was known as the Belgian plan and the other was an amplification of a last minute suggestion offered by Germany just before Sir Bradbury and Eugene Mauklere British and French members of the commission left Berlin for Paris last week.

The Belgian plan has been unofficially offered by the Belgians delegation as a means of preventing a break between England and France. Belgium would accept long term notes in place of the remaining cash payments due this year amounting to 150,000 000 gold marks. As a guarantee of ultimate payment of these installments, Germany would deposit 210,000,000 gold marks from the reserve of the Reichbank in the Bank of England France has not definitely declared herself on this proposal and M. DeLaCroix, Belgian member of the commission and M. Dubois, president are conferring in the hope that it might prove satisfactory.

England and Italy have approved the proposition.

Will Consider German Plan

The German plan, which probably will be the subject of conversations between the Commission and German officials on Wednesday, would meet Premier Poincare's demand for allied control of German state mines and forests by a guarantee to France of the products of these resources during the moratorium. Failure promptly to deliver the stipulated timber and coal would result in the seizure of certain mines which would be designated in the agreement.

British approval is behind this arrangement which is regarded as giving France the productive guarantees she seeks without actually turning over political control of the mines and forests.

The products of these state properties would realize very substantial sums of money, experts believe, the sale of which would more than offset the cash payments of which Germany would be relieved thru a moratorium.

The British continue to emphasize that Germany is doing everything she can to meet the French point of view and would be willing to give the productive guarantees which M. Poincare demands in return for a moratorium if such guarantees are of a strickly business character and not political.

The French official position continues to be that full control of the German mines and forests must be handed over to the allies in return for a moratorium. There is considerably less talk of threatened isolated action and more of the desire of France to reach a unanimous decision in the commission thru a compromise.

Reparation officials continue to stress the urgent need of another allied conference on reparations.

A THOUGHT

A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself; but the simple pass on, and are punished. —Proverbs 27:12.

Who shall decide when doctors disagree,
And soundest casuists doubt, like you and me?
—Alexander Pope.

One hundred and eighty-six babies have been registered for the Morgan county conference. That number is proof of the genuine interest in the event for the entry list is almost worthy of a state fair.

Revenue losses of the government during the past year by comparison with the year previous were more than $1,000,000,000. It will now be proper for some of the strong advocates of Volstead act revision to come forward and try to prove that the losses have been due to prohibition.

The Morgan county fair is open today and everything indicates a large attendance and a successful event. The directors and their assistants have spared no effort in preparation and the fair will have all its old time glory. More exhibits could not be accommodated and the demand for concession space exceeded the supply.

Certainly the people of Morgan county will apreciate the exhibits and race events that have been arranged for their entertainment, and will indicate that appreciation by daily attendance.

DUTY BEGINS AT HOME

"I am not an advocate of complete indifference to the wreck of Europe, but I do say that our first duty is to develop our own heritage, and in that will be found the way to safety and prosperity.... The whole of Central Europe, from the commercial viewpoint, has gone. If we have to wait for the hope of recovery until order is restored in that part of the world, it will be a black outlook for this country."

Thus spake Andrew Bonar Law, former chancellor of the British Exchequer, to the visiting members of Dominion Parliaments, in London, recently. Law is the originator of the policy of imperial preferences in trade between Great Britain and her possessions which has, link by link, been perfected since the close of the war. His is the nationalistic and patriotic view. What he says with respect to Great Britain and her possessions is applicable with no less force to the United States and its territory. Central Europe has a penitential road to travel before its recovery is complete, and while we can smoothe the road, we are not justified in policies which would shift the burden to the shoulders of our own people.

MR. BRUNDAGE AND THE HERRIN INVESTIGATONS

The following from an interview with Atty. Gen. Brundage, raises the question as to why $25,000 should be sought in subscriptions to make the investigation possible:

"This department has been at work aggressively and constantly ever since there was an indication that local authorities could not handle the situation without assistance. It is not the duty of the attorney general to conduct investigations and prosecutions of this character under normal conditions, but we have found it necessary to take up this matter just as we took up the race riots at East St. Louis, and we shall handle it just as effectively, we hope, as we did those riots.

"We do not expect any serious opposition or interference with our work for many of the things that have been said about the people of the mining district are just as untrue as the assertion that all Illinois officials have been too lazy, too timorous or too much swayed by political motives to begin investigation and prosecution. The severest criticism of Williamson county has come from those persons who apparently thought I should have included a press agent in my investigation bureau"

THE QUESTION OF LABOR COSTS

The Boche Review thus explains recent advance in wages by the Steel Corporation:

"The advance in wages by the Steel Corporation this week is a further flaring signal to the effect that the readjustment of labor costs has halted. This cannot be said to constitute all-around good news for business. The margin of profit at present is being severely cut down in a very large number of industries because of labor costs.

An especially intelligent correspondent, who has just completed a trip thru many of the Eastern and mid-Western states, advises us that every line of business with which he had contact reports plenty of orders in hand and a big future business in prospect. He says that "very frankly" the one outstanding impression he gathered on his trip was that the supply and demand situation in labor, when considered with the present elevated cost of living, does not warrant any general decline in wages.

There is no doubt that wages should, before this, have been readjusted from the uneconomic high basis of 1919. This, as a rule, has not been adequately done. Any industry which has not gone thru this readjustment has, it it would seem, missed its opportunity, and it is fair to assume that we cannot look for any material recession now until we strike another period that shows a decided downward trend in business. Speeding up of efficiency (if possible) and close watching of expenses is now extremely important.

WATER DRUNKARDS

(By NEA)

Why bother making wine in the cellar? Water, drunk to excess, is an intoxicant. Wait a minute, before bursting into laughter. The statement, that water "packs a kick," comes from Dr. Leonard G. Leonard G. Rowntree. He is one of the specialists in the clinic conducted by the famous brothers at Rochester, Minn.

Here's how Doc proved it:

He fed, to experimental paticents, extract from a small ductless gland at the base of the brain. This was to increase thirst, make the patient drink excessively.

Then "the patient kept drinking water until he deveioped marked headache, nausea, a staggering gait, unsteadiness of muscle, and inability to stand or walk, which lasted for a few hours."

The final stage of the water jag as described by Dr. Rowntree, is accompanied by convulsions and other symptoms resembling delirium tremens.

John Barleycorn is not the only intoxicant. A cup of strong coffee contains as high as five grains of caffeine. People whose typhoid glands secrete excessively often get as much intoxication from thyroid as they could get out of a pint of whisky. So-called "inspiration," when writers and artists (note the distinction) are creative, generally is a period of thyroid intoxication.

You have observed people "drunk on excitement." Dancing sometimes goes to the head, particularly with emotional young women. Baseball spectators frequently act like drunken men. The emotions can be worked up to such a drunken pitch that men go mad with the mob spirit and commit excesses that they would not dream of when emotionally "sober."

The intoxication of excitement is caused by excessive secretion by the various endocrine glands of the body, especially the adrenals and thyroid.

Small wonder, that it is difficult for the nation to agree on what is intoxicating. A quantity of alcohol that would put one person to sleep might have no more effect on another than a bucket of water on a duck's back.

Few of us are ever really sober, or normal. One day we are, figuratively, a couple of drinks below normal. Another day we may be intoxicated without having taken a drink. Exuberance is intoxication. Who knows but what the bootleggers one of these days may be selling glandular extract?

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

Off For College

By Berton Braley

NO doubt you'll get out for the glee club,
And probably try for the team,
And I'm figuring that you may land in a frat,
Which is each undergraduate's dream;
Your car will come in very handy
At house parties, during the year.
And your wardrobe's complete, so you'll look smart and neat
At functions where you may appear.

YOUR tennis, perhaps, might be better,
But that will improve, I expect,
And the bridge game you play out to aid your entree
Into circles extremely select;
You're THERE with the small social chatter,
Which helps at a dance or a tea
And the golf you put up ought to win you a cup
By the time you're a full-fledged A. B.

YOU'LL probably work for the journals
Which students conduct with much skill,
And maybe you'll rate pretty high in debate,
I'm willing to wager you will;
All this ought to help your advancement
And aid you to make quite a hit—
And once in a while, when you've time to beguile,
Perhaps you might study a bit!

"South of Suva"

Phyllis Latimer goes to the South Sea Islands to rejoin her husband whom she married three years previously on the eve of his sailing. She finds him a drunken degenerate and after a few weeks of heart-broken efforts to help him brace up when his only desire is to drag her down to his level, she runs away, and goes to a neighboring island, where she poses as Pauline Leonard, the ward of John Webster, its owner. Phyllis has met Pauline on shipboard and knows enough about her to impersonate her successfully to the man who has never seen his ward. Her husband incites a native uprising against Webster, who hires Hindoo labor instead of native labor, and finding Phyllis on Webster's island, acting as secretary, drags her home with him and gives her to the natives for a human sacrifice. Webster and government police arrive in time to save Phyllis from the savages. Latimer is killed in the riot, and Phyllis and Webster confess their love for each other.

ALL IN READINESS FOR MORGAN COUNTY FAIR

After Lapse of Quarter of a Century Fair Will Again Function —Indications Point to Successful Week. Many Exhibits on Grounds.

PROGRAM OF RACES TODAY

2:27 trot, $200 (added) —Prince Monoro, Charles Valentine, Leon DeForrest, Trelston, Edna Mayo, Lucille B., Wood Wallie.

Pony race $15.00 (added)

Half mile dash running race $50.00 (added).

Buggy horse race $15.00 (added).

The entries in the last three races do not close until noon today and the entries are not known, but it is the belief of the directors that there will be several entries in each event. The races start promptly at 2 o'clock.

When the Morgan County Fair opents at the old fair grounds today it will be the first real county fair that the city and county has had since 1897.

Time was when the Morgan county fair was regarded as one of the best county fairs in the United States. The local track also was considered one of the fastest half mile tracks in the county.

The fair reached its peak during the years from 1893 to 1896 During those years some of of the fastest horses in the county contested for purses offered by the local association. It was on this track that Strathberry and Queen McGregor contested in 1895. The race was a one heat affair much to the disappointment of the 20,000 spectators who thronged the grounds on that day.

In the opening heat Strathberry broke his hopples as did the only other horse in the race and both were distanced. Queen McGregor set the track record at 2:10¾ in that heat which still stands. Grey Jack known as the "Grey Ghost" driven by Deaf John Atkinson also appeared on the local track in those days.

Owing to business depression during the years of 1896 and 1897 the fair association found the going rough and finally the fair was abandoned and the property passed into the hands of the state.

A few years ago citizens of Jacksonville and farmers of the county interested in stock raising and kindred pursuits began the formation of a county fair on a small scale. Last year they gave a most creditable fair at which time there were large exhibits of live stock and farm products.

This venture proved so successful that the promoters began planning for this year on a large scale. Realizing that people still like to see a horse race steps were taken to secure the old fair grounds. The state readily consented to permit the use of the grounds.

It has required a large amount of work to place the grounds in shape but wonders have been accomplished in the last few months. The track has been rebuilt and horsemen who have been working out their horses say that it is in excellent condition, tho a good rain would improve it and make conditions more pleasand for the spectators.

The grounds have presented a busy scene the las few days. The grand stand and judges stand have been completed. Tents have been put up and the grounds cleared of weeds and rubbish. Sunday and Monday many show animals were arriving.

Indications now point to one of the largest exhibits of cattle, hogs and horses that has been seen in the county in many years. Other departments also have large entries.

Meet us at the Fair this week and make yourself at home. Graham, Hdw. Co.

In this state Superintendent of Public Instruction Blair has had them printed in full by permission of The Associated Press. These pamphlets have been sent to superintendents of public schools thruout the state with the request to read portions of the stories to the pupils on the occasion of patriotic observances.

CANTON FACING WATER SHORTAGE

CANTON, Ill.—(By the A. P.)—Citizens of Canton, facing the most critical water shortage in the history of the city, have been ordered to use no water except for absolutely necessary purposes under pain of arrest.

"Unless a curb is put on the use of water and put on immediately, Canton will be in a terrible condition in event of fire, to say nothing of the possibility of the spread of disease thru a lack of water for sanitation," said the mayor.

The city supply tanks are falling behind the necessary reserve of limit at the rate of 12 inches a day. Orders have been issued to arrest anyone using garden and lawn hose.

The water supply is obtained from wells, but the general drouth and the consequent great use of water has made this supply inadequate. New wells are to be provided, but until this is done the present supply will become exhausted unless its use is restricted, say city officials.

The only thing that could make the Morgan county fair greater would be a larger amount of space. Now the fair grounds present the appearanc of a great tent city. One must visit the grounds to sense the extensive preparations which have been made for the fair, which is to open today.

Entries have been coming in by the scores and hundreds of workers were kept busy far into the night in listing the entries. Every department has its full quota and it is a fine thing for the fair that there is such a uniformity of interest in all the various departments.

In addition to the always expected feature of a genuine county fair, the directors have prepared many things besides to assure entertainment during the day time and evening hours. There will be vaudeville stunts and numerous amusement enterprises, so that the people old and young, will find something to do during all the time.

Applications for concessions were far more numerous than could be met and all available space has been taken. The race track was sprinkled and dragged at a late hour Monday night and is in fine condition for the first day's races, which will begin promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Judging in the horticultural department will begin at 1:30 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Rucker. The horticultural tent is located a few yards north of the grand stand. The public will be welcome to watch the work of the judges in this department.

A limited company of relatives and friends was present for the service, including Miss Grace Harmon and Earl Harmon, sister and brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon will take a wedding journey thru the east and are expected in Jacksonville about Sept. 10. They will visit Mrs. Harmon's relatives in Pennsylvania before coming here. Mr. Harmon, who has just completed a special course of training at the University of Michigan, has for a number of years been director of physical trainng and coach at Illinois college, his alma mater. The management of the college, as well as a great many friends of the institution familiar with Mr. Harmon's work, prize his manly influence on the young men under his charge almost as greatly as his athletic leadership.

Mr. Harmon's term of work at the college was interrupted for more than a year by his entrance in the army, where he served as captain both in cantonment here and overseas. He is a son of Mrs. Katherine Harmon of 516 East College avenue.

DEATHS

Higginson.

Word has been received of the death in Wichita, Kansas, of Edward Higginson, formerly of this city. His wife was a daughter of the late Dr. L. M. Glover and he himself was a fine man. He clerked for the late Alex McDonald in the store on the spot now occupied by Knoles' Clothing store. He went west at the time Bloomfield Dayton went to Humbolt, Kansas. Mr. Dayton lived but a few years and Mr. Higginson moved to Wichita where he was engaged in the wholesale grocery business. He left a sister, Mrs. Conover, in Virginia. He was also the father of several children.

DeWitt.

The death of Mrs. Minerva DeWitt occurred at 2:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the New Home Sanatorium. A few weeks ago Mrs. DeWitt was removed to the sanatorium for an operation but she did not gain strength enough to make the operation possible. She grew gradually weaker until the end came Sunday afternoon.

The deceased was born in Wilson county, Tenn., in 1860. As a young woman she became the wife of Rev. H. H. DeWitt, the marriage being solemnized at Gallatin, Tenn. In 1892 they came to Jacksonville, which has continued their place of residence.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Sanders of Los Angeles, Calif., and one son, Luke English, a foreman in the Studebaker factory at South Bend, Ind.

Mrs. DeWitt was an earnest coworker with her husband in the affairs of the Second Baptist church. A woman of fine Christian character, she performed a real service in the church and her influence was always for good. She was associated with the women's organization of the church and was serving as president of the West Side Art club. Mrs. DeWitt was also a member of the Household of Ruth No. 129, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows.

The remains were taken to the Gillham Funeral Home and this afternoon will be removed to the residence, 647 South Kosciusko street.

Funeral services are to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Second Baptist church. The ministers in charge of the service will be Dr. George Mason of Jackson, Mich; Dr. Murrell, of Quincy, and Rev. R. H. Hackley, acksonville.

Ransdell.

Death came very suddenly to Mrs. Julia Ransdell at her home, 229 West College avenue, as the result of heart disease. Mrs. Ransdell was found dead in bed Monday morning and an inquest was held by Coroner Rose Monay afternoon at the undertaking roms of Arthur G. Cody.

Sunday evening Mrs. Ransdell was about the house as usual and several neighbors called to see her. The conversation indicated that she was in her usual health. Monday morning Charles Crain, who has for several years lived in Mrs. Ransdell's home, knocked at her bedroom door as she had not risen at the usual time. Receiving no response, Mr. Crain opened the door and quickly discovered that Mrs. Ransdell had passed away. He immediately summoned Dr. David Reid.

At the inquest Dr. Reid, who had been Mrs. Ransdell's physician, testified that death was the result of heart disease.

The deceased, who was seventy-one years of age, was born in Quincy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilcox. In that city she was married to J. P. Ransdell, Sept. 9, 1869. Their home was in the country southeast of Jacksonville for a number of years, but in 1906 they removed to this city. Mr. Ransdell died Nov. 18, 1916.

Mrs. Ransdell was a woman of sturdy Christian character and had the good opinion of all who knew her.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternon at 2 o'clock at the Cody undertaking rooms.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, diziness and distressing urinary ills? Jacksonville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit? Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. R. Twyford, 436 E. Lafayette avenue, Jacksonville, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills ten years ago and I have had no trouble since. I had severe pains thru my back and a dull, dragging ache seemed to settle in the small of my back. When I would bend over a sharp stabbing pain would take me across my kidneys and it would be hard to get straight again. I also had dull headaches. My kidneys were disordered, too. I read of how good Doan's Kidney Pills were and started using them. They fixed my kidneys up in good, healthy condition after I had used five boxes and I have had a sign of the complaint since. This ten-year-old cure speaks well for Doan's and I am glad to recommend them for what they did for me."

ARE BREEDING CLEAN HOGS

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—A brand of clean pigs, with good table manners and sanitary surroundings, is being developed by what is known as the McLean County System of Sanitation, approved by the U. S. Government, according to Dr. B. H. Ransom of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry.

The generally accepted theory that a hog is naturally dirty and hence should be kept in dirty confines, is being disproved, said Dr. Ranson. This unfortunate animal is the victim of environment, he said, and while they haven't attained to respectable table manners yet, they will be clean if given a chance.

The McLean county system has resulted in reduction of the greatest of all hog enemies—worms. The pig becomes infected by wallowing in the eggs of this parasite. The new system keeps the young pig and the worm separated until the pig is large enough to resist the parasite.

The system requires that pens where sows are to be confined be scrubbed with boiling water mixed with lye and the farrowing house be heated in cold weather. This system of cleanliness has been used extensively in this county and from that has taken its name.

RAW MILK PRODUCERS PROTEST PROPAGANDA

ROCK ISLAND, Ill.—Raw milk producers have made a protest, thru local newspapers, against what the charge is an organized effort on the part of a syndicate of pasteurized milk companies to put them out of business. There are many farmers in Rock Island county who produce milk on their farms and deliver it to customers in Rock Island. They have their own routes.

These farmers charge that a combination of dairymen with plants in Rock Island are urging the city commission to prohibit the sale of unpasteuriezd milk and are conducting a campaign of propaganda against the use of such milk. If the campaign is successful, the farmers say it will put them out of the milk business. They claim that their milk has been used for centuries without injury and is better than the pasteurized variety.

MILLIKIN MAN TRYING TO GET NATURALIZED

Decatur, Ill.—Dr. Erich W. Zimmerman, a professor in Millikin University here, has been denied a rehearing of his application for citizenship papers. At the time of the draft for the World War he was in New York, and the New York draft board before which he appeared ordered him to claim exemption as an enemy alien, acoording to his statement.

He applied last March and again in May for citizenship papers, which were denied on the ground that under the law an enemy alien who claimed exemption from military service on that plea cannot become a citizen within five years after such exemption.

Dr. Zimmerman claimed an injustice had been done because he merely followed the orders of the draft board when he claimed exemption. Judge Baldwin here held he must wait until next January to present another application that being the end of the five year period. The case has caused much discussion here.

Cumberland, Md. — "My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she will write asking what it did for me."—Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 53 Dilley Street, Cumberland, Md.

Whiskey Money Builds Playground for Children

ON THE RIGHT IS MAYOR SCOTT HEARING A BOOTLEG CASE. ABOVE IS A PLAYGROUND, AND BELOW A POLLING PLACE, BOTH BUILT WITH "WHISKY MONEY"

By NEA Service

Milford, O.—It's an ill wind that blows no good, in the opinion of Mayor M. B. Scott, of this thriving village.

Mayor Scott has beaten copper stills into wash boilers, gasoline containers and similar articles of "legitimate" use. With the money obtained from sale of these, together with the fines he has collected from their owners, he has built play grounds and recreation centers for the youngsters, and other municipal improvements.

Since January Mayor Scott has assessed $125,000 in liquor fines, of which the share going to Milford was $30,000. Hundreds of illicit stills have been confiscated and their owners sent to prison.

Milford's monuments to prohibition are being paid for by fires into Milford's treasury from the rum peddlers, moonshiners and still manufacturers of Cincinnati, which is 20 miles away. The mayor of Milford is their terror. His jurisdiction as prohibition enforcer ranges all over Hamilton County, but Cincinnati is his happy hunting ground. His three officers haul Cincinnati dry law violators before the mayor at the rate of five a day.

"We are the prohibition capital of the state," he says. "And here you see the first good that whisky has done," he adds, pointing to the rapidly growing number of civic improvements.

"Whisky money built most of our polling booths, our public playgrounds and parks. I'm going to keep on until Milford hasn't any more stills, and bootleg poison is stamped out in our vicinity."

Mayor Scott's idea to convert liquor fines into public playground facilities and municipal improvements is perhaps the first of its kind in the United States.

Visions of a new city hall as the climax of Mayor Scott's efforts are in the minds of Milford citizens.

The Straight Line

When a railroad is constructed from one town to another engineers strive to make the line as straight as possible. Because a straight route is shortest, quickest and least cosaly.

Business furnishes a parallel case—the line between the man who makes something and the man who wants something.

Advertising provides a short cut between the manufacturer and you. Advertisements make it possible to tell you in a few minutes all you want to know about theservices or articles you need.

A glance through this paper enables you to sift out the things that interest you, and in a moment you know just where and when to go for what you want.

MODERATE RECESSION IN MARKET PRICES

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Unfavorable week-end developments in the industrial situation combined with aggressive short selling and a slackening of demand, resulted in a moderate recession of prices in today's stock market. The sharp break in French governmental and municipal bonds also caused some uneasiness.

Pool operations forced up several gas and tobacco shares to the highest prices of the year but the bidding up of these stocks failed to check the decline elsewhere. Consolidated Gas sold above 14 for the first time in nearly six years, probably in anticipation of capital readjustment.

Announcement that maintenance of way men were demanding a miinmum wage of 48 cents an hour and the declaration of Federal Fuel Distributor Spencer that the fuel situation was again serious with many railroads probably induced some selling of carrier shares which were down large fractions to 1½ points. Losses of a point or more were sustained by Chicago & Northwestern common and preferred, Erie first preferred, Missouri, Pacific and Union Pacific.

Announcement by Henry Ford of a shutdown of his motor plants on September 16 because of the fuel crisis furnished the ammunition for a professional attack on the motors shares, but it dod not result in any extensive liquidation. Studebaker and Chandler yielded 1 to nearly 2 points but rallied later. General Motors was only slightly affected. Today's dispatches from automobile centers indicated that no cessation of work in any plants was indicated.

Total sales were 748,000 shares.

SHARP BULGE IN PRICE OF WHEAT

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—An unexpectedly strong market at Liverpool caused a sharp bulge in wheat prices here and during the day commission houses bought on the breaks in sufficient volume to hold a good share of the rally. Toward the finish, short covering also strengthened the market and the close of ⅛ to 1⅝c up with Sept. $1.03⅜ to $1.03½ and Dec. $1.04⅜ to $1.04½. Corn was ½c lower to ⅛c higher; oats were unchanged to ⅜cup and provisions ranged from unchanged figures to 17½c advance.

Wheat in the English market was in good demand and the strength there was reflected in the markets here at the start, but the best early prices were not maintained because a lack of aggressive buying. In mid-session the commission houses tactics and a decrease of 77,000 bushels in the visible supply an unusual development for this time of year formed a bullish influence. Corn advanced early but more than lost the upturn later on selling by longs.

Receipts here were 600 cars and this took the edge off the demand, especially as it is expected there will be a heavy run all week.

Comission houses were persistent sellers despite the continued drought over most of the belt and the expectation of bull private reports to be given to the trade later in the week.

Oats followed corn and eased off that grain out averaged higher.

A lack of support, with scattered selling made a lower range for provisions despite the strength in hog values.

Local Team Hands Visitors Nine Large Goose Eggs—Fryman Allows Four Singles.

Frank Smith's Indees handed the Virden Merchants nine large white goose eggs in the game at South Side Park Sunday. While they were doing this they scored six runs against two Virden hurlers.

Fryman was on the mound for the Indees and was stingy with hits, allowing Virden but four during the afternoon. But three men reached second base.

Fryman struck out thirteen men and walked one. Vivian who started the game for Virden breezed along in great style for five innings, only allowing one scratch hit. However, he walked three men and hit one. Two of the walks scored and the hit batter also made the circuit. He struckout four men. He was succeeded in the seventh by Spencer who was bumped for five hits.

Both teams put up a good game in the field, each making one miscue. Clark caught an excellent game for the Indees and Cox and Denney also put up a good game in the field. Cox also featured in the hitting, getting a home run and a single, scoring two runs and driving in two more.

The pitchers had the situation well in hand during the first five innings. In the sixth the break came for the Indees. With one down Clark was hit by a pitched ball and scored ahead of Cox on the latter's home run drive to right field. DeFrates walked after Christopher had grounded out, stole second and came clear home when Hamm's grounder trickled thru Ruble's legs.

Spencer took up the white man's burden in the last half of the seventh. Fryman greeted him with a safety to left and took second on Wheeler's safety just over the infield. He was out on a double steal, Wheeler reaching second. Clark walked. Cox singled scoring Wheeler and sending Clark to third. A passed ball put Clark over and Cox on third. Christopher bounced a single off Graham's glove and Cox scored. That was all for the afternoon.

Going Some for Mere Stripling

BY ROY GIBBONS

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Martin J. McManus, now two-bagging it for the St. Louis Browns, is another one of those sand-lot meteors which every now and then flash out across the sky of sportdom.

Marty achieved his love after the horsehide in the Windy City behind the stockyards at the early age of seven when he organized a neighborhood team of youngsters known as the "Athletics."

Today, at 21, he is making great time in the big leagues, piling up an envious .338 batting average, "which is going some for a stripling," as Chicagoans are wont to ruminate in speaking of him.

McMANUS

Had Hard Sledding

Marty's father died when Marty was quite young. For a long time the family had a struggle of it. But things are different now, because with Marty doing big league stuff and a brother and sister working at home, their little white-haired mother is ensconced comfortably in a cozy West Side flat with a phonograph and everything.

And is that little mother proud of her boy! You should hear her talk about him.

"He was just wild about baseball even as a tiny tot," she says.

"I remembered one day after he had cleaned himself up for school he turned around and looked at me and said: 'Ma, some day I'm going to be with the big ones. Just look at my batting arm. I'll make things easy for you when that happens.' And he's been doing that too just as he promised."

Joined the Pros

At 17 Marty climbed out with the Tulsa team of the Western League and had his first professional workout.

He had drifted around Chicago long enough, so he thought, and anyhow, the semi-pro managers were suspicious of his batting ability. To them Marty was an excellent second baseman but his slugging was a dispute.

Marty joined the Browns in 1921 as a rookie. Since then he has been playing unquestionable good ball. All the old gang back in Chicago watch his every movement on the diamond, as reported by the press, with eager interest.

When Marty makes a play worthy of mention there is a celebration back in the yards.

And Chicago is mourning that it was not she who placed the laurels on his head.

Suit Economy
It is the practice of many men to givee an order for several suits at one time. It costs a little more to get started—stocked up, but in the long run is far cheaper and the man always appears extraordinarily well dressed.
But say four suits at one time, change each week and three weeks will elapse before you appear again with the same suit—it has been forgotten by your friends and its reappearance gives them the impression of "another new suit"—prosperity.
Wearing and resting your clothes in this manner prolongs their life almost indefinitely as creases and wrinkles and minor wear do not become permanent and frequent cleaning and pressings are unnecessary.
It will be a year or more before there is need to buy another suit and then only one, and here is where the economy begins to show strong.
And above all is the wonderful feeling of satisfaction had by the man who always is well dressed; the assurance it gives and the prestige.
Many people are able to follow out this plan, and would they only knew its advantages.
Suits made to measure from our weaves, as we make them are certain to give you perfect satisfaction in point of fit, cost, permanence of wear and appearance.
